RiverWorks Murder Mystery

The year is 1899. Buffalo's booming waterfront has seized in the grips of a violent labor strike pitting Irish grain scoopers against their bosses. You are joining the rest of the Buffalo community gathering for a labor meeting at a grain elevator at the heart of the dispute.

After meeting the real life characters in this murder mystery you'll enjoy a wonderful buffet dinner at RiverWorks. But don't get too comfortable! Murders afoot and we need your help in solving this grisly grain mill murder mystery.

Following dinner you'll return to the grain silo, the scene of the crime! Look for clues, interview suspects, try to outwit the annoying lead detective.

After you've collected your clues, you'll return to RiverWorks once again and discover who done it. Prizes are awarded to the to one team chosen from all the teams correctly guessing the killer.
